

Messengers of Peace

International Day of Peace (IDP) 2022 Guideline

(A reference document for NSOs action teams)

1. Background

A UN resolution established the International Day of Peace in 1981 to coincide with the opening of the UN General Assembly. The first Peace Day was celebrated in 1982 and was held on the third Tuesday of September each year.

In 2001, the General Assembly unanimously voted to designate the day as a period of non-violence. The United Nations invites all nations and people to honor a cessation of hostilities during the Day, and to otherwise commemorate the Day through education and public awareness on issues related to peace. In 2002, the UN General Assembly officially declared September 21 as the permanent annual date for the International Day of Peace celebration.

To inaugurate the day, the United Nations Peace Bell is rung at UN Headquarters (in New York City). The bell is cast from coins donated by children from all continents except Africa and was a gift from the United Nations Association of Japan, as "a reminder of the human cost of war"; the inscription on its side reads, "Long live absolute world peace". (Ref: <https://www.un.org/en/observances/international-day-peace>)

2. IDP 2022 Theme: End racism. Build peace.

The 2022 theme for the International Day of Peace is "End racism. Build peace." Everyone is invited to join the efforts of the United Nations as we work towards a world free of racism and racial discrimination. A world where compassion and empathy overcome suspicion and hatred. A world that we can truly be proud of. (reference: <https://www.un.org/en/observances/international-day-peace>)

3. Messengers of Peace for International Day of Peace

Scouts in Asia-Pacific Region are vigorously involved in peace actions since the launch of Messengers of Peace Initiative in 2011. Since 2015, the International Day of Peace has been celebrated by almost all National Scout Organizations (NSOs) in the Asia-Pacific Region, taking the opportunity to engage young people and leaders in peace actions and inspiring them to become active global citizens. In many NSOs, peace actions and doing good deeds are spread for the entire month of September.

4. Objectives

- 4.1 To commemorate the International Day of Peace through active involvement of Scouts in their communities
- 4.2 To inspire and support Scouts to talk on Peace Actions with other Scouts, non-Scouts and community members
- 4.3 To raise awareness on issues in their communities and the importance of everyone in the undertaking actions towards development of peace culture
- 4.4 To serve the community in the form of community service, community development, development education based on the context/need of the respective community

5. Action Period

- 6.1 Scouts of all ages: executing the activities and interacting with community members
- 6.2 Non-Scouts: understanding peace, undertaking peace activities with Scouts, and committing to continue to be Messengers of Peace

7. Planning and Guidance

- 7.1 NSO to assign a national team to plan and execute the celebration/activities at national level and extending support to local leaders who will organize, plan, coordinate, implement and report local activities happening around the country.
- 7.2 Entrust coordination responsibility to NSO MoP Coordinator or as may be befitting who will be responsible to support the national and local teams in planning and advancing the initiative at national level through its local structure, supporting the promotion through social media channels and directly with Scout groups with the involvement of Scout leaders.
- 7.3 Ensuring involvement of the public in undertaking actions and documenting or reporting (pandemic restriction and local law to be strictly followed)
- 7.4 Submission of reports to Asia-Pacific Support Center possibly by 30th September so that it can be compiled and be shared globally. This is with the intention that Scouts contribution be recognized at appropriate platforms.

8. IDP Activity Ideas Collection

There is a vast selection of activity ideas for International Day of Peace which can be chosen and applied addressing the 2022 theme for the International Day of Peace, "End racism. Build peace".

As Scouts, we can help in "Creating a Better World" in which everyone is treated equally regardless of their race promoting anti-racism through education and reparatory justice.

Below are some of activity ideas:

8.1) Peace Video Clip

To provide social media platforms where Scouts can share their video clips, for example:

- What peace means to individuals and their own peace perception speech
- Their peace activities serving in the communities
- Tell personal experiences and stories on happiness they find in helping others
- MoP Dance Music Video (with their own choreography or unique dance moves)
- Scout talents such as singing inspiring songs with the theme of peace, play music, or any other performances that would provoke thinking in the viewers

This can be done by individuals or even could be organized as talent shows or competitions by groups, sub-national or national.

8.2) Peace Picture and Pledges

- 8.2.1) Are you into photography? Then take some pictures that reflect any expression, ideal or messages of peace. Share them in social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest, etc.) with a nice message that includes the word SCOUT. Pictures must be original.
- 8.2.2) Pictures can also be taken in “selfie” style displaying a pledge to build awareness that peace culture is a daily effort with small acts of kindness. It is important to recognize that “Peace starts with me”.

- Step 1:* Take a selfie showing commitment towards peace actions in line with the team “End racism. Build peace”.
- Step 2:* Think about own declaration of commitment towards peace, to express what you would do starting today to start building peace.
- Step 3:* Post your selfie and your declaration of peace. Share on sdgs.scout.org and other social media platforms.

Some suggested activities (you may be innovative based on local needs)

8.3) Live Interview or Webinar

A series of live interviews or webinars on how we can contribute to “End Racism. Build Peace” and be used as a step towards the International Day of Peace (21 September).

Step 1: Plan and Organize

- Develop the concept: choose topic, participants, objectives.....
- Choose your speaker
- Choose a date and time to execute the webinar
- Choose the platform (zoom, google meet)

Step 2: Choose the right Format

- Choose the right format that can best relay your message to the participants. It can be in single speaker, interview format, panel discussion or question and answer format.

Step 3: Publicize your Webinar

- Let the people know about the webinar to get maximum participation. Promote your webinars through creating a page, banner, advertisement, emails especially on media sites like Facebook. Send multiple follow up to your participants to encourage them to attend the event.

Step 4: Practice your webinar

- As much as possible have a checklist. Always remember that everything may not go smoothly, you may experience any technical difficulties that may be crucial for your webinar. Practice dry run, check and run a test on your webinar software, finalize your presentation, check activities that need to be monitored.

Step 5: Execute your webinar

- Have at least 10 minutes for the question and answer to discuss with participants points for clarification. Ask if there are further questions or requests.

Possible topic:

- “Peace starts with oneself”
- “Gender Equality”
- “The role of media in manifestation of Peace towards the world”

Possible questions:

1. Why did you choose that topic?
2. What is the meaning of peace for you?
3. How can you share your knowledge with your community?
4. What are the possible projects or activities we can implement in the community?

8.4) Peace Talk - on radio/podcast

If we can reach more, we can inspire more. Contact your local radio station asking for a slot to talk about “how scouts contribute to peace through service”. Invite people to join our global effort to promote Peace Culture with small acts of kindness towards creating a better world.

Step 1: Make a list of radio stations with numbers and contact persons

Step 2: Contact them to ask for a slot to talk about Scouts and Peace

Step 3: Agree on a specific program and schedule

Step 4: Prepare some key points to use in your radio show. Share it with other Scouts if they are also joining. Prepare a token of appreciation for the radio station.

Step 5: Go and enjoy the radio world. Ask someone to record or ask the radio to provide you with the recording. You can even talk on TV! An interview with national and local leader on TV/Radio would draw attention of viewers to Scouting.

9. Promoting IDP Activities

One of the most important tasks of MoP is to INSPIRE others to do good deeds. Therefore, the International Day of Peace Promotion should be done through these platforms such as <https://sdgs.scout.org/>, Messengers of Peace|Asia-Pacific Region Facebook group and your own national administered social media sites (Facebook pages/groups, YouTube, Instagram, etc.) for uploading projects and stories.

10. Reporting

For reporting, you may please use the report forms attached to the circular. Ensure that all activities held in celebration of the International Day of Peace are well documented and reported.

There are two forms, one for NSO to summarize all the activities that took place in the IDP Celebration throughout the country either at unit level or at national level which is exclusive for the MoP NSO Coordinator.

The other form is designed to report each activity/event. NSO can use it to circulate to subnational and grass roots for them to submit this report forms to National that will help NSO to prepare the summarized report. NSO can also give this form to each of the in-charge of National Event/Activity to fill-up so all national activities have the detailed information available with NSO.

In submitting to APR Support Center, NSO needs to send the summarized report form. And if NSO wishes, may also attach all the event/activity forms.
