Tamil Nadu

Tamil Nadu is a land where people speak an ancient 'living language' that dates back to over five thousand years. The literary phrase 'Thandamizh Veli Thamizh Nattagamellam' (Paripadal) highlights the antiquity and pride of Tamil Nadu.

Stretching from Venkadam in the north to Kanyakumari in the south, Tamil Nadu boasts of its cultural richness and ancient heritage. This region is abundant in resources such as mountain wealth, marine wealth, and soil wealth, and it has an ancient tradition. It is not an exaggeration to say that Tamil Nadu has excelled in various fields, including literature, Siddha medicine, music, dance, folk arts, martial arts, painting, sculpture, sports, philosophy, customs, rituals, science, and technology, from ancient times to the present day.

Tiruchirappalli

Tiruchirappalli, located on the banks of the Kaveri River, is a city rich in history and antiquity. It was the capital of the early Chola dynasty during the Sangam period. Artifacts discovered through excavations at Uraiur reveal trade connections with Rome and Uraiur. According to the traveller Ptolemy, the silk garments in Uraiur were as delicate as a snake's skin and like the clouds. The Bharat Heavy Electricals Limited (BHEL), located in Tiruchirappalli, fulfills a significant portion of India's energy equipment and production capital needs. Numerous commercial establishments are situated here.

Fortress Rock Fort

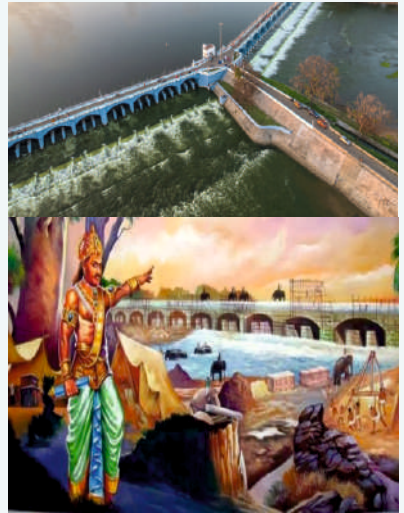

Rock Fort is a complex that features a fort and a temple built on an ancient rocky hill. Its height is 275 feet. the rock-cut caves in Trichy's Rock Fort, the Lower Cave Temple stands out for its architectural excellence.

Geologically, this hill is over 3,600 million years old. Inscriptions in Tamil Brahmi script dating back over 2,000 years can be found here. From the Sangam period to the British era, rulers have chosen Tiruchirappalli as the place to declare their authority to the world. Rock Fort serves as a symbol of Trichy. Among Behind the Uchippillaiyar temple, there are rock-cut beds used by Jain monks, measuring four feet in length one and a half feet in width. They are older than the Himalayas in terms of age. The temple built on two levels of rocks above this hill is a unique structure found nowhere else in the world.

The Marvel of the Dam – Kallanai

This dam was built by the Chola king Karikala over 2,100 years ago. The technology of the ancient Tamils, who constructed the dam using a stone foundation and clay, remains an astonishing achievement to this day.

This dam, built with stone and clay, is 1,080 meters long, 66 meter's wide, and 18 meters high. It provides irrigation facilities to 600,000 acres of land. It is additionally remarkable that this is the oldest dam in the world still in use today. Literary works such as the 'Porunaratrappadai' and 'Pattinappalai,' along with inscriptions and records from Thiruvallankadu, speak about the Kallanai, which harnesses floodwaters for irrigation.

Our Lady of Lourdes Church

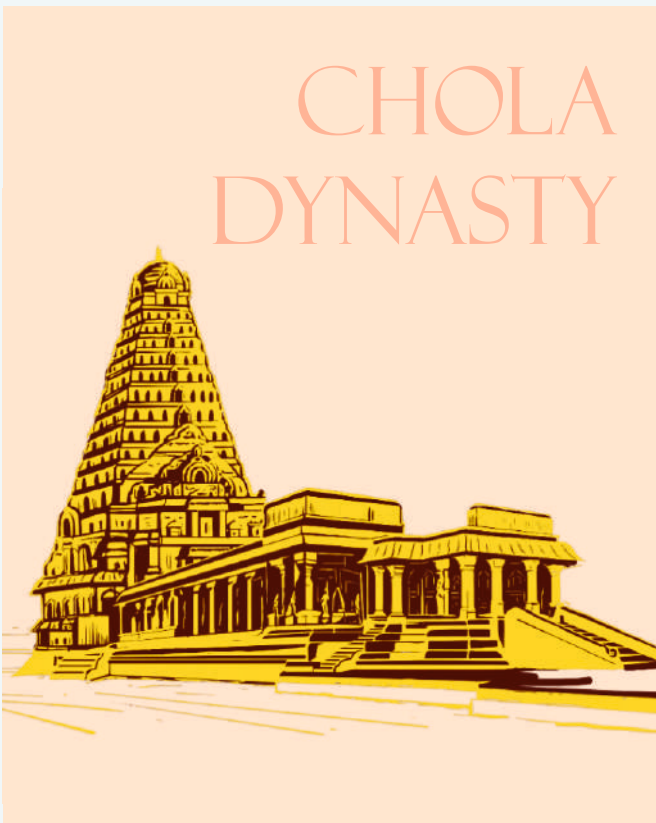

One of the oldest Christian churches in Trichy is St. Lourdes Cathedral. The foundation was laid during 1890 and the construction was completed by 1895. The cross on the top of the Cathedral is 8 ft long, 25 ft high and weighs 78 kilos. It is a church located in Trichy, worshiped by people of all faiths. It was built in the 'Gothic' style of architecture, similar to Roman architecture. The colored paintings and glass paintings on the roof and side walls are proof of the antiquity of this church.

Nathar Shah Mosque

Kallu Palli and Nathar Shah Mosque in Trichy Fort, located opposite to the railway station are the evidences for the peaceful spread of Islam through commercial contact in Trichy, a thousand years ago. Kallu Palli mosque is built of stones. On the facade of the mosque there is an inscription in Arabic language. It is known that this temple was built 106 years after the demise of the Prophet. Similarly, the Nathar Shah Mosque, built in Trichy on 28th October 1026 by the humble Sufi saint Nathar Wali, still emits his radiance. People from different parts of the world come to participate in the Urs festival held here.

Uraiyr

Uraiyr is known as the most important place of Tiruchirappalli. Uraiyr is mentioned as 'Uranthai' in Sangam literature, the oldest literature of the Tamil language. The seventh hymn in Paripadal refers to the capital of the Cholas, Uraiyr. Roman coins have been found at various places in Uraiyr.

The dye vats of Uraiyr, famous for weaving, are also present in Rome. From these it is well known that Rome and Trichy Uraiyr had a commercial connection. Ptolemy, a Greek sailor who lived around 1300 AD, mentioned Uraiyr as 'Orthura' in his travelogue. Also, Uraiyr is highlighted in the Greek sea travel book Periplus written in 246 AD.

Srirangam - Aranganathar Temple

Foremost among 108 Vaishnava temples, spread over an area of 156 acres, the temple has 21 towers. There are more than 650 inscriptions in this seven prakaram temple. The temple tower is the largest tower in South India.

Gandhi Market

Mahatma Gandhi laid the foundation stone of the largest commercial center in the heart of Tiruchirappalli called Gandhi Market. This market, which is operating as a weekly market under the name of Market, was laid by Mahatma Gandhi on 17th September 1927 with the efforts of the Municipal Chairman Rathinavel Devar. There is no other place in India where Mahatma Gandhi himself laid the foundation stone for the Gandhi Market named after him.

Bharat Heavy Electrical's Limited (BHEL)

It is the largest public sector organization of the Government of India which has received the 'Maharatna' award. The company also manufactures and supplies primary equipments required by industrial companies. The boilers prepared here ranged from 60 MW to 600, 1000 MW to generate steam for power generation. Apart from these, heat exchangers, fluidized bed, combustion boilers and other spare parts required for nuclear power plant are manufactured here.

Tiruchirappalli

Ordnance Factory Tiruchirappalli (OFT)

It is located in Tiruverambur. Various types of guns required by the Indian Defense Department are manufactured here. New S.R.C.G type gun operated by remote control is manufactured here. These are capable of striking targets both day and night.

Anna Science Center – Planetarium

The center has science and technology labs, a 3D theatre, a planetarium, science parks and an evolution park. The Environment gallery is the brilliance of this center. In order to exhibit the sky in front of the eyes, stars, solar system etc., will be displayed daily in the planetarium.

Butterfly Park – Melur

It is one of the largest butterfly parks in Asia. Its area is 27 acres. 129 species of butterflies are found here, including the Indian Dartlet. More than 300 plants are grown for butterflies. Nakshatravanam is its speciality.

Puliancholai

Puliancholai is located in the valley of Kolli hills in the Eastern Ghats of Tamil Nadu. The scenic mountain peaks, thick trees, forests, streams, waterfalls, natural water springs, amaze the onlookers.

Places to visit:

Thiruvanaikaval, Tiruvellarai, Samayapuram Mariamman Temple, Vekkaliyamman Temple, National Institute of Technology, Bharathidasan Management Institute, Pachamalai Hills, Agaya Gangai Falls, Mukkombu Dam (Upper Anaicut), Environment Museum, Government Museum.
